

• Program Courses Description:

GOV 500	Governance in the Public Sector	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course addresses the concept and elements of governance in the public sector, the difference between governance in the public and private sector, a review of governance indicators, the concept of good governance, participation and transparency in managing public affairs, a review of distinct international experiences in the field of governance in the public sector, levels of application of the elements of governance in the Kingdom, With an analysis of the indicators of governance, and the levels of application of elements of governance in the Kingdom.
GOV 501	Institutional and Organizational Efficiency	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course deals with the development of the concept of institutionalization, analysis of classic and new institutional theories, the difference between institutional theory and other management theories, the foundations (elements) of institutional work, challenges facing organizations in adopting the concept and principles of institutionalism, methods of organizational culture analysis, analysis of the relationship between institutional and organizational efficiency and quality Government work outputs.
GOV 502	Topics in Management	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course deals with the historical development of management, a review of the various administrative methods in managing organizations in the public sector, principles, concept and importance of management planning, building leaders in the public sector, the concept of centralization and decentralization, and managing change in public organizations.
GOV 503	Public Policy Analysis	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course deals with the concept and elements of public policies, methodological methods in analyzing public policies, analysis, discussion and comprehensive understanding of the important aspects of the policy making process, the elements that must be taken in preparing a general policy of quality and achieving the economic and social goals of the state, and the relationship between public policy making and development, In addition to training in the skills of designing and analyzing public policy, and ways to prepare, approve, implement and follow up on public policies in the Kingdom.
GOV 510	Public Budget	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course deals with a study of financial thought and government financial function, including a study of public expenditures and revenues and their items, types and role of financial policies in achieving overall development goals. The course also examines general budget management methods, general budget governance methods, ways to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of the general budget process, managing revenue and general expenses, methods of fighting administrative and financial corruption, and the concept of accounting and accountability in managing the public budget.

GOV 511	Globalization and Sustainable Development	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course deals with the implications of globalization and the international political economy on the fundamental and procedural aspects of public policy making and the adoption of governance in the public sector in developing countries, the international political economy and its relationship to global development, the impact and impact of international organizations and organizations on local public policy and sustainable development in countries, and the relationship between good governance and sustainable development Comprehensive and balanced.
GOV 512	Selected Topics in Local Development	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course deals with economic and human development in the Kingdom, the Millennium Development Goals and their application in the Kingdom, analyzing the Kingdom's performance in global development indicators, preparing, implementing and measuring the results of development plans in the Kingdom, reviewing the concept and elements of local development, methods of analyzing development plans and measuring their outputs. Also, the course addresses the impact of major global issues on local public policy, global public policy and industry, and their implications for local public policies.
GOV 513	Public Finance Management	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course deals with the effectiveness and efficiency of public finance management in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, public finance reform in the Kingdom, financial planning and investment in the public sector, public debt management, the difference between public finance and private finance, centralization and financial decentralization, the concept of privatization and its types, economic diversification, and the relationship between the sector Public and private investment aspects, reviewing the concept of public needs and the theory of public options, the government's role in economic activities, and fiscal and monetary policies.
GOV 530	Constitutional and Administrative Law	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course deals with the elements and concept of administrative and constitutional law, legislative, executive and judicial authorities in the Kingdom, methods of preparing, approving, implementing and following-up government legislation and regulations, reviewing the relationship between the formal, organizational and legislative process and between public sector governance and analyzing public policies in the Kingdom.
GOV 531	Contemporary Issues on Managing the Public Sector	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course addresses contemporary issues in government and public sector management in the Kingdom, the intellectual and conceptual development in public sector management in the Kingdom, a review of the process of institutional and administrative reform in the Kingdom, the concept and elements of the Kingdom's 2030 vision, governance of 2030 vision, and theories and methods of administrative and institutional reform.

GOV 532	.Management and Strategic Planning	3 ( 3 + 0 )
The course deals with the different concepts of strategic management and its stages of development and the relationship between management and strategic planning, and showing its importance in the world of variables and the complex environment and the need to face unexpected changes in the surrounding environment, as well as studying the requirements of strategic management and its operations such as thinking and strategic leadership and strategic planning, and focus on analysis and strategic planning in terms of analysis The internal and external environment, drawing the strategic direction, vision, mission, strategic goals, implementation and follow-up plan, including setting strategic performance indicators.
GOV 599	Applied Research	6 ( 0 + 6 )
The course deals with the study of methods of applied studies and scientific research (quantitative and qualitative), with a focus on the process of designing studies and applied scientific research that address contemporary issues, collecting and analyzing information using appropriate statistical programs, arriving at specific results and explaining the interrelationships between variables. And the distinction between studies, consultations and research, and methods for preparing and designing studies and management consulting. And conducting applied research for a specific problem in the field of governance and public policies.		